

Evidence-Based & Best Practice Listings

Wyman's Teen Outreach Program® (TOP®) has been implemented successfully with diverse communities and in both urban and rural environments. The program is designed to meet the developmental needs of middle and high school teens in a variety of settings, including in school, after-school, through community organizations or in systems and institutional settings.

Independent research reviews by federal agencies and organizations have recognized TOP for its evidence-base.

Listings include:

- U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Teen Pregnancy Prevention Evidence Review
- U.S. Department of Justice – Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention
- Advocates for Youth – “Programs that Work”
- Blueprints for Healthy Youth Development
- ChildTrends What Works
- Collaborative for Academic, Social and Emotional Learning – CASEL
- Horizon International Solutions (Yale University)
- National Collaboration for Youth
- National Dropout Prevention Center/Network at Clemson University
- The National Campaign to Prevent Teen and Unplanned Pregnancy
- Nest – What Works for Kids (Australia)
- Rand Corporation - Promising Practices Network
- Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's National Registry of Evidence-Based Programs and Practices (NREPP)
- Youth.gov